THERE APPRARS TO UN considerable strength in a movement among the largest western distilleries to induce Congress to increase the tax on distilled aprirs to one dollar and a haif per gallon, but as things now look it will hardly find a single advocate in Congress, as the returns to the Treasury still show that the reveaue, at the reduced tax, is much larger than when it was two dollars per gailon.

THE PERSONAL COMMISSIONER, of internal reveaue, David A. Wells, has about completed his report on sevenue matters, including excise and customs, and will submit it directly to Congress, as required by law. Among other modifications of the internal reveous law approved in this report is that reducing the tax on distilled spirits. It is also believed that Mr. Wells will coincide with Mr. Rol-lins, and recommend a tax on sales.
